Buses to take spectators to ball games

County school buses will be used next year to transport rural students to and from athletic events at high schools in Letcher County.

After a request from Whitesburg and Fleming-Neon athletic associations, the board of education voted Saturday to revoke its previous ban on use of busses for the purpose.

Russell Price, spokesman for the groups, promised the board the associations would have a teacher as chaperon on each bus, and would permit only 25 children and teachers to ride. Buses riding the buses must attend the games, Price said. The athletic associations would pay for gasoline and drivers.

Price said the Whitesburg game receipts went down from $5,700 last year to $3,621 this year. He said he considered sports an important part of school spirit and commented that "the spirit in Whitesburg is at its lowest ebb since I've been in the county."

Board member Kern Whitaker said he thinks athletics keeps many children in school.

Dr. B. F. Wright, board chairman, said he has been converted to the idea that with the proper chaperoning use of busses might help.

Supt. W. B. Hall said he was obligated to remind the board that it would be doubling bus

Teacher placement by May 15 asked

The Board of Education wants County School Supt. W. B. Hall to notify all qualified teachers in the Letcher County system where they will teach next year by May 15.

Board members made the request at their meeting Saturday. They asked Hall to supply applications to all qualified teachers by the first or middle of April and to notify them where they would be placed by May 15.

Hall said most of the time certified teachers are placed by the middle of May but emergency teachers cannot be because they cannot be employed until after July 1.

Arnold Hall, a board member, asked that each teacher be asked to list her preference of schools in 1-2-3 order.

"Let me remind you again that the superintendent places the teachers," W. B. Hall said. "You're immune to the request of the board, are you?" asked Dr. B. F. Wright, board chairman. "I wish the paper would say that."

"I wish the paper also would say that the superintendent is attempting to preserve and will as long as he is here to preserve the authority of the superintendent," replied Hall.

To which Dr. Wright said: "Well, you might as well get ready. There are a few little things left to the board, and you're not going to get any emergency teachers until you place the qualified teachers." "Old righteous Doc," said Hall.

Earlier in the meeting, the board had refused to approve the minutes of a previous special meeting of the board, held Jan. 10. The Jan. 10 meeting was taken up mostly with a hearing in the case of Mrs. Raleigh, a cook at Eolia School who was fired by Hall. The board voted at the special meeting to reinstate Mrs. Raleigh, saying her dismissal was on political grounds.

Dr. Wright objected to the minutes, written by Hall as secretary of the board, on the ground that they build a case for Hall but "ignore the charges" (Continued on Page 4)

Valentines wanted

Brownie Troop No. 5 of Whitesburg asked today for help in filling a Valentine box it has made for children at Whitesburg Memorial Hospital. The box has been placed on the children's ward, and anyone interested may drop Valentines in it.

Day of prayer set

World Day of Prayer will be observed here Friday. Women of the Presbyterian Church will open the church from noon to 2 p.m. for silent prayer. Women of the Methodist Church will hold a special service at 7:30 p.m.

Fire prevention set for talks on Saturday

The Letcher County Board of Education will meet at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon to consider plans for improving fire prevention and protection at the Whitesburg High and Grade Schools.

At its meeting last Saturday, the board directed Henry Deal, maintenance supervisor for the school system, to draw up plans showing what is needed and what can be done and to have them ready for the board meeting.

The board acted after a delegation from the Whitesburg Parent-Teacher Association met with it and presented some recommendations.

Joe Reynolds served as spokesman for the PTA delegation, which included Mrs. S. E. Moncrief Jr., Mrs. Allyn Judd and Mrs. Walter Owens.

Reynolds told the board if it spent its money wisely and "put first things first, the schools would be better and we wouldn't have the conditions we have here." If the county does not have the money to rebuild the school buildings, he said, it should remember that a "stitch in time saves nine."

Dr. B. F. Wright, board chairman, said he had heard complaints about the fire dangers only recently and that they had not been presented to the board at any meeting at which he had been present.

Dr. Wright said the board would let Deal lay out what is to be done first and would do it as hurriedly as possible.

"I think this is an emergency," he commented. Supt. W. B. Hall objected that Deal might not have time to make an adequate plan in a week but told the board "but if you want it done that way, I'll do it that way."

Dr. Huston Westover, who also was present at the board meeting, commented that as a student he had worked as a building inspector, and one of his jobs was follow-up inspections after fires. "It was pretty gory," he said, "and so often a major catastrophe resulted from a minor cause. One door that didn't work. One piece of fireproofing not there. One wire that should have been insulated."

"Last week at the hospital we had a disaster drill with a lot of make-believe patients. It struck me that if this had been the real thing, the whole county would be in mourning and it would be a different county from now on."

The PTA's recommendations were these:

Installation of one-hour fireproof material over the furnace and around the furnace-room doors and removal of staging, buttons and other objects from the furnace room in the grade school.

Enclosure of the high school furnace room with a cement block wall and provision of metal containers for disposal of milk cartons.

Reynolds said he thought fire walls, inspection and changing of wiring and installation of "panic hardware" were the most important things.

The PTA delegation wanted to know whether they would be welcome at the meeting of the board this Saturday.

Dr. Wright told them, "All meetings here are open. It's your meeting and your money. We're glad to have you come and wish you'd come more."

Arnold Hall, a new member of the board, said he had read in The Mountain Eagle that some patrons had been told they were not welcome.

"What that Mountain Eagle runs and the truth are two different things," Supt. Hall told him. "I'll pay you for anybody you can produce that's been run out of this office."

Alvin Holbrook, another member of the board, said he didn't think "anybody" had been made to feel unwelcome. "I don't remember anybody," he said.

At the end of the meeting, Supt. Hall presented the fire marshal's recommendations for the entire county to the board. The board went through it hurriedly. The board indicated it would work on fire prevention at other schools as it could.

Fleming deed given

A new building for Fleming-Neon High School is a step nearer to reality this week.

Deeds from Elkhorn Coal Corp. for mineral rights to the land where the school will stand were signed this week by the school board, which authorized Supt. W. B. Hall to make a trip to Charleston, W. Va., to get final papers from the company.

When Hall returns with the papers, the board will advertise building bonds for sale and when the bonds are sold work on the school can begin. Contracts already have been let.

City council 'corrects' story on meeting

Members of Whitesburg City Council undertook this week to correct their correction of some allegedly "unjustified publicity" which appeared in The Mountain Eagle several weeks ago.

In January, the paper carried a story reporting a decision of Judge Courtney C. Wells in the annexation suit now in court. At the city council's February meeting last week, councilmen indicated they thought the story should not have been run. Last week's Mountain Eagle reported that fact and included some comments made by City Atty. Leroy Fields and Mayor Arthur Banks.

Last Thursday the councilmen, at a private meeting, "voted unanimously to correct" the story in last week's paper. They signed a statement. Remond Day, city fire chief, delivered it to The Mountain Eagle along with a lengthy statement on the city's side of annexation (which will be carried as space permits).

Here is the text of the council's "correction":

"The Whitesburg City Council unanimously voted Thursday night to correct certain statements published in the February 5th issue of The Mountain Eagle."

Mayor Arthur T. Banks was quoted as saying that he thought the Court's decision and the publicity on it were unjustified. Mr. Banks made the statement that the printing of the decision in the paper was unjustified because it made people believe that the case was completed instead of being just begun. However, Mr. Banks did not wish to infer that the Court's decision was unjustified. The statement of the City Attorney as printed in said article is also erroneous because it infers that the Master Commissioner, Hon. Harry L. Moore, was on the side of the city before any orders or testimony had been presented to him. The city attorney instead made the following statement:

"I think our judge make a wise selection when he referred this case to the Master Commissioner to hear the evidence and make his findings of fact and law to the court. If the facts and law are against us, Judge Moore will find against us, but if the law and facts are with us, he will find with us." In other words, the city attorney was merely agreeing with our circuit judge in referring the case to Mr. Moore.

"It so happens that Mr. Harry Moore had called the judge the day before this particular issue of the paper came out to explain that he should not act as commissioner because he, for a short time, worked with the city attorney in this case but withdrew because of conflicting interests. Mr. Moore made it clear that he was not withdrawing from the case because of the statement in the paper."

Road Network Proposed For Eastern Kentucky Highway

State Highway Commissioner Ward J. Oates outlined to the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission on Feb. 2 a proposed road network designed to serve basic economic needs of the region. The plans were developed by the State Highway Department, based on recommendations of the Commission. Larger map at right shows status of priority system within the network proposed for completion ultimately, which is outlined on smaller map below. Larger map shows priority needs for improvement, active highway department projects, and road sections deemed adequate for the present. Commissioner Oates estimated portions listed as having priority for improvement could be completed in five years if money were available. He said state is prepared to meet its share of cost but that additional federal funds must be forthcoming to get program launched properly.

We agree to disagree

There's a well-known saying among baseball fans—"Ump, you need glasses"—which we may adapt for Whitesburg as "Councilman, you need hearing aid."

Members of the Whitesburg City Council voted in a private meeting this week to "correct certain statements" made in a report of the February city council meeting carried in last week's Mountain Eagle. Each of the councilmen and the mayor signed a statement prepared by City Atty. Leroy W. Fields and the mayor. The statement said that City Attorney Fields and Mayor Banks did not say what they were quoted as saying in last week's Mountain Eagle. (The complete statement appears elsewhere in today's paper.)

We are forced to suggest that perhaps the councilmen were not listening as closely as they might have been to the proceedings. For the city attorney did say what we quoted him as saying, and he did not say something else "instead" as the council's statement published today indicates. And the mayor did say what we quoted him as saying, though we can understand the councilmen may not have heard him since there was quite a hullabaloo at the council meeting.

Luckily we were not the only spectators at the council meeting. Several other citizens of Whitesburg were present too, and they heard the statements the same way we did.

For the record, we'd like to add one other thing. The councilmen seem to have got the idea from somewhere that this newspaper is opposed to the annexation undertaken by the City of Whitesburg. The Mountain Eagle has supported annexation from its very beginnings and will continue to support it, no matter who is on the city council. We may not always agree with the methods used, but we will support the principle. We refer the councilmen to past issues of the paper and will be glad to supply copies if they have not seen them.

Fee system needs reforms badly

Candidates for both executive policy-making positions in government, as well as for seats in the General Assembly should go a long way in providing a needed reform for the State by pledging themselves to complete abolition of the "fee" system of paying public officers.

Altogether too frequently, it "just happens" that certain local officials are found owing either the county or state treasury thousands of dollars, and it is with extreme reluctance that local fiscal courts take action to recover that which is due the local treasury, or take steps to see that there is a rigid accounting of all fees collected by fee-paid officials.

The General Assembly likewise has been slow to bring action such as lies within its power, either to impeach the offending officer who, altogether too often, has resolved all doubtful items in his own favor.

The slipshod methods of accounting work altogether to the advantage of the person who cares little or nothing whether the public treasury gets all that is coming to it.

The Court of Appeals went a long way two years ago in stripping "fees" from justices of the peace—some of whom have operated speed traps that defied all semblance of justice—and enriched themselves to the tune of sums ranging from $30,000 to $50,000—as established later (generally too late for recovery) by the state auditor's office.

The Appellate Court held that methods inherent in the "fee" system, so far as justices of the peace are concerned, violate "due process" and are tantamount to a "denial of substantial justice."

Room for improvement still exists. There are lots of other courthouse officials paid by fees, rather than by salary. A straight salary for each fee-paid official would be far more desirable and equitable.

The system in vogue is a hand-me-down from the earliest days of the republic. Like Topsy, it is "jes growed" until errors in handling public funds are in most cases in favor of the official who collects fees for a livelihood, and weighed heavily—practically speaking—against the interests of the treasury.

Altogether too often the fee-paid official ignores the provisions of the constitution as to the $7200-a-year salary limitation . . . and the result is a long drawn-out suit which drains the general public treasury of its resources while, not infrequently, the official against whom a judgement is obtained frequently ends up "execution-proof."

It is no more happen-stances that Miss Mary Louise Foust, state auditor, repeatedly has called attention to derelictions on the part of local officials in this connection . . . that suits are pending in widespread areas of the state for recovery of sums up to $150,000 (in one instance) . . . all because of the looseness incident to the fee system of paying officials.

The group of those accused of owing the public treasuries includes county attorneys, sheriffs, jailers and others who rely on "fees" for a living, but who, if proper accounting methods were employed, in many instances might well avoid shortages.

The need exists for remedial steps to be taken to protect the public interest, just as the Court of Appeals went a long way in striking down the fee system in the case of fee-paid magistrates.

The remedy:
Place all officials on a straight salary, along with their clerical help.

Require every cent collected by presently compensated fee officials be paid over to the public treasury with reasonable dispatch.

Will anyone dare do it
Facilities of the Legislative Research Commission are ample to point the way.

A courageous General Assembly could well come along and, by acting boldly in the field, earn the plaudit:
"Well done . . ."

Opposes school sales of soft drinks

To The Editor:

A year or two ago, largely through the efforts of the PTA, Letcher County Schools stopped selling soft drinks, and many of the schools installed milk machines. Now, however, I understand that there is considerable pressure from the bottlers and distributors of soft drinks for renewed sale of these beverages at the schools.

As a parent and as a physician, I am strongly opposed to any renewed sale of soft drinks on school property. The health of our children is more important than money.

The American Medical Association, through its Council on Foods and Nutrition, has issued the following report: "The council believes that one of the valuable functions of a school lunch program is to provide training in sound food habits. Of considerable significance in the adoption of such a program is the sale of food, confections or drinks on the school premises; opportunities to purchase food and drink at non-lunchroom concessions bear directly on the food habits

No wonder that our roads are all falling apart in the state of Kentucky. If they are falling apart it is due to the mud slinging that Combs and Wyatt are doing. You put mud on blacktop and it will cause it to disintegrate, and the kind that they put out causes it to just fall apart.

Everybody that I have talked to was very glad to see that present state official are talking about building a road from Campton to Whitesburg. At least the road commissioner is talking about it that is more than we have ever gotten anyone else to do.

They can talk about Mr. Chandler coming to the fair city of Whitesburg. He has been there three or four times

Word 'love' sums up Jesus' teachings

By The Rev. John R. Howard

February 15, 1959

"JESUS QUESTIONED ABOUT THE GREAT COMMANDMENT" Mark 12: 28-34.

Life begins with love.

All that Jesus, the Son of God, taught can be summed up in one word, a simple, four letter word, the word: LOVE.

God is love. Like the figure of eight, which is the mathematical symbol for "eternity," the proof of man's eternal life is measured in the certainty of his love for God and the certainty of his love for God is measured by his love for his fellowman. John tells us this plainly in his first Epistle. (1 John 4: 20, 21; 5: 2, 3)

Every commandment of God is summed up in this one word, LOVE. "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and His love is perfected in us." (1 John 4: 12)

We never begin to live until we begin to love. Love is not for those who love us, we are no better than sinners if we do this. Love is like the sunshine, it must be for those who were made in the image of God; whether they happen to love us, or hate us, is not the question. We are commanded to love our enemies, "that we may be children of our Father in Heaven: for He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? Do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? Do not even the publicans so? Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." (Matthew 5: 45-48)

Love is the fulfilling of the law. If we truly love, we will walk by grace as sons and daughters of God. We will not be measured at every corner by the law, we will do more than the law requires, we will fill the law full with His Spirit, we will fulfill the law, not in letter, but in spirit, which is far better. Christ is the fulfilling of the law. Yes, He fulfilled the law for us, who were incapable of keeping fully the law. The Law is our Schoolmaster, which brings us to Christ.

When we fulfill the law through love, Christ is living in us and "it is not I who lives, but Christ liveth in me, so that the life that I now live, I live by faith in the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me."

Two wonderful examples of love are given in the true life stories in the February issue of the Reader's Digest for 1959. One is the story of "The Gallant Buccaneer of Los Banos," an elderly British sea captain who was in a prison camp in the Philippine Islands during the second world war. He became the idol of the children in the camp by his stories and the courage that he inspired in these starving children and finally gave the milk that the doctor said later would have saved his life for the life of a babe in arms who was perishing for lack of it. A second story is that of "The Transformation of Sergeant Braggall," a typical hard-boiled sergeant in a small community in Germany, who at 50 years of age, began to have some of the "crust" broken by the loving kindness within him that began to expand. Through his many deeds of selfless love, he has become, not only the idol of his community in which he is stationed and has been returned by popular demand upon the U. S. Army, but he is the friend and brother of the soldiers whom he directs.

The greatest story ever told is the Love of God in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself. "He who knew no sin was made to be sin for us, that we in Him might be made the righteousness of God." (2 Cor 5: 21)

"And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that He had answered them well, asked Him (Jesus), "Which is the first commandment of all?" And Jesus answered him, the first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these." (Matthew 22: 37-39)

1. That thirty years ago, an average hour's take-home pay would buy 1 1/2 loaves of bread? Today it will buy about 11 loaves.

2. That in Kentucky, Indiana, and Ohio, today's bread is enriched with vitamins and minerals to compensate for those lost in milling?

3. That each year, about 100 pounds of potatoes per person are eaten?

Cranberries
A reminder of housewives that cranberries are becoming scarce on February markets. Frozen or canned now, they will add that extra flavor that blends so well with chicken, turkey, or meats, whatever the season.

The easiest way to freeze cranberries says the USDA, is to wash, sort and drain them, then pack them without sweetening in freezer bags or other containers, leaving a half-inch head space.

Cranberry puree, canned or frozen, may be used like fruit for dessert or with poultry or meat. To make: Add two cups water to each quart (one pound) of berries. Cook until all skins have popped, and press through strainer or food mill. Add about two cups sugar to each quart of puree. Can in sealed jars or pack in rigid containers, leaving one-half inch of head space in pint containers. Seal and freeze. It may be served when slightly thawed.

HILLARD KINCER

ANNOUNCES

As Candidate

For Representative

Democratic Primary, May 26

Ladies and Gentlemen I have lived in Letcher County all my life. I was reared in Mayking, Kentucky near the center of Letcher County, the son of the late Lee Kincer and Susan Craft Kincer. My wife is the daughter of Anna Cornett Hogg and the late Leslie Hogg of Blackey, Kentucky. So you can readily see that I'm not only interested primarily in any one section of Letcher County, but am interested in all of Letcher County and its people.

The foregoing are some of the issues I stand for:

1. The salaries of our qualified teachers with a degree should be raised to the National average. This is a must if we are to hold first class teachers in Kentucky and Letcher County.
2. A state school building agency needs to be set up with authority to loan money to needy school districts that have exhausted their borrowing power. Letcher County would benefit from such a law.
3. The present school bus transportation formula needs to be revised. The state should pay a greater portion of the cost of transporting students than it now pays.
4. Improved and increased services and benefits for old aged pensioners.
5. Reconstruction of Highway 15 between Letcher County and Winchester. This was in the February 5th issue of The Mountain Eagle.
6. Improvement and construction of rural roads.
7. Construction of a State Park that would induce Tourist travel to Eastern Kentucky.
8. Bonus to be paid War Veterans.
9. I favor extending unemployment benefits.

I was for 10 years a teacher in Letcher County schools and left teaching because of inadequate teachers salary, therefore I understand and know the needs and desires of the teachers in Letcher County.

This is a portion of the things I stand for. There is no need for me to promise a lot of wild election promises that I will get all these things for you here in Letcher County. I would much rather be honest and tell you I will do my utmost for the afore mentioned subjects, and exhaust every effort to bring improvement to Letcher County.

Welding class to start Feb. 18

The Jenkins Board of Education, in cooperation with the Area Vocational School, Hazard, is offering a short unit class in welding, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 6 p.m. CST. This class will meet on Wednesday and Thursday of each week in the Vocational School Mobile Shop located at the Jenkins Football Field. This class will be under the supervision of Cecil Hall and will consist of first vertical, horizontal and overhead welding with both electric and oxyacetylene being used.

Teacher placement

Hall said Mrs. Raleigh was dismissed before the board passed on her dismissal. She was a non-certified employee, he said, and the superintendent has a right to do that.

"Then why ask the board?" asked Dr. Wright.

"I wanted it down in black and white," the superintendent replied. "She was not entitled to a hearing. A non-certified employee serves at the pleasure of the superintendent."

"The minutes don't put in all the facts," Dr. Wright said. "Unless you can prove they're false, they will stand," Hall replied.

"Why do you take down one witness' testimony and not another's?" asked Arnold Hall, board member.

Dr. Wright asked whether there would be a motion to approve the minutes. There was a short silence; then Alvin Holbrook, board member, made the motion. Ben Brown seconded it. Brown and Holbrook voted for the motion, and Dr. Wright, Arnold Hall and Kern Whitaker voted against it.

Fleming topples Cavaliers

By R. Percy Elkins

John Washko's hopping mad Pirates, still smarting from the 10-point defeat handed them by Jenkins last week, came into Jenkins determined to revenge the loss and stop the Cavalier win streak, and succeeded in doing both by a score of 70 to 64.

Chaney and Tackett Outstanding

Ross Chaney and Daniel Tackett, East Kentucky's finest guards, gave outstanding performances in pacing their teams. Chaney dropped in eight baskets and sank 12 of 13 free throws for 28 points. Tackett hit nine field goals and six of nine charity tosses for 24 points.

Fleming jumped out to a 10 point lead in the first quarter and increased it to 13 points with a 38 to 25 count at intermission. At the beginning of the fourth frame, the Pirates held what appeared to be a comfortable margin, but Chaney led Cavaliers made their bid and pulled within one point of the Pirates as the game ended.

These two teams will probably meet again in the 53rd district tournament at Whitesburg March 1.

Cavaliers Defeat Yellowjackets Friday night the Cavaliers journeyed to Whitesburg and captured their 14th win, 62 to 52. Jenkins took an early six-point lead and were never seriously threatened in winning by a 10-point margin.

Nick Dann played one of his finer games in registering 19 points.

Combs paced the Jacket attack with 18 points, followed by Hall with 13, Blair with nine, Stamper 5, Kuracks 3, Folly 2, and McCould 1.

Blue Devils Win In Overtime

Wendell Lewis' team won its second consecutive overtime contest by besting Feds Creek 58 to 56 at Jenkins Friday night. At the end of the regulation overtime the score was knotted at 56 all, so the game went into a sudden death playoff, which means that the first team scoring is the winner. Slone hit a jump shot after a famine of seven minutes to give Dunham its victory.

Thursday night the Devils entertain the powerful Harlan Rosenwald at Jenkins. This Negro team went to the finals of the 13th region last year before losing out, and is expected to be better this season.

Cavaliers Play Carr Creek

Jenkins moves to Carr Creek Saturday night to meet the ex-state champions. Next Tuesday the Cavaliers return the engagement at the Jenkins Fieldhouse, so let's come out and see basketball by two of the state's best.

Club has spent many hours and considerable money in the operation and maintenance of city's only swimming pool and Field House—both owned by Kiwanis Club.

Club attendance nine months ending 9-30-58—92.9 per cent. Have held twelve inter-club meetings first nine months.

Net increase of four members as of November 1, 1958.

on his rounds in Eastern Kentucky. I recall Mr. Clements coming to the Pine Mountain Junction on his way from Harlan to Pikeville. He doesn't know that Whitesburg's main street is so full of business that it is congested and that we even needed a bridge to help relieve that congestion. All he ever knew of Whitesburg was what some politician told him and I am afraid they were just interested in what was happening in the Court of Appeals of which Mr. Combs was a member.

The people in Letcher County are interested in getting more roads, let it be "force account" or whatever you might want to call it. We don't care as long as some of our people are able to get work and our communities the roads. At least the governor is that much interested, which is more than some have ever done down there. At least they are not building private roads and grading off house seats with the state equipment as was done over four years ago. I can take you to places in the county where this has been done and it is not hearsay. I imagine just it went on all over the state of Kentucky. I imagine that the Courier Journal was informed of that, but did they send out reporters to take pictures of that? No, because they were their men and their men could do no wrong.

Let's be fair in things that we say and not just ruin our roads with stuff that is worse than mud.

Mother Tortured By Child's Choking Cough

"I was tortured for many nights by my child's choking, croupy cough, following colds, until I found DR. DRAKE'S. Now I can sleep without worry," writes Mrs. A. E. O. Harris, Long, Ill.

Thousands of mothers have found DR. DRAKE'S brings quick, almost relief for croupy coughs. Usually, relief starts with very first swallow of DR. DRAKE'S. It breaks up the choking phlegm and aids in relieving the coughing spell. DR. DRAKE'S contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Get DR. DRAKE'S today at your drug store, and you, too, will be able to sleep without the worry of choking, croupy coughs.

established by the child. School children generally have a limited sum of money for the purchase of their daily lunch. If a portion of this money is spent on substances of limited nutritional value, the value of the lunch which a child may obtain with the remaining money obviously is reduced. The availability of carbonated beverages on school premises may induce the child to spend lunch money for these and allow him to develop poor dietary habits. This is especially true for the younger children. Expenditure for carbonated beverages yields a nutritional return much inferior to that from a similar sum spent on milk or other staple food stuff. Furthermore, when given a choice between carbonated beverages and milk to accompany a meal, a child may frequently choose the less nutritious beverage. In view of these facts, the council believes that carbonated beverages should not be sold on school premises."

Similarly, the Kentucky State Board of Health has advised, "Discontinue the sale of candy and soft drinks in schools."

In my career as a practicing physician, including service in the Air Force, I have had patients from nearly every part of the United States. It is discouraging to have to report that nowhere else have I seen as much malnutrition nor such horrible dental caries as in the children and young adults of Eastern Kentucky. This can be directly attributed to two things: excessive consumption of "sweets," and not enough dental and medical care. Making soft drinks easily available to school children can only result in more rotten teeth and more malnourished youngsters. Occasional drinking of carbonated beverages is pleasant and probably relatively harmless. But the regular substitution of a "coke" for milk in a child's diet will inevitably bring harm to his health.

Therefore, I urge the parents and the school board of Letcher County to resist all pressures to sell soft drinks in the schools, and to strive constantly for better nutrition for our children.

Candy hearts and cards can say
"I'm missing you on Valentine's day!"
But somehow the nicest way of all is say it yourself—with a telephone call!

What a wonderful Valentine for someone far away—the sound of your voice reaching warmly across the miles. On special days . . . on any day . . . a Long Distance call is the best and easiest way to keep in touch! Rates are extra low if you call after six P.M. or anytime on Sundays. And it's cheaper than ever when you call Station-to-Station. For faster service, always call by number!

THE LAST MILE—is the longest. It certainly must seem like that to the lady of the house when the phone's been ringing all day and she's been on the run to answer it. What she really needs is the convenience of extension phones in arm's reach—in her bedroom . . . her kitchen . . . or the basement, perhaps. They'd be handy for other members of her family too—Dad and the teenagers. And, something else—those lovely colors! Soft pastels and bright cheery hues. We'll be glad to help you bring the convenience and color of extension phones to your home if you'll just give us a ring.

LIKE MUSICALS? In addition to more new exciting science shows, to be sponsored by Southern Bell on television from time to time, a series of hour-long music shows will be televised in color this spring. If you, your family and friends like music, I'm sure you'll want to be on the lookout for these delightful musical productions. So watch for the dates and times to be announced in your local newspapers.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 19% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 19% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

Soft drink sales okayed in schools

Soft drinks may be sold in all Letcher County schools except those in Whitesburg, the county school board decided last week.

The board changed a ruling made two years ago.

Ray Collins of Royal Crown Bottling Co., Whitesburg, appeared before the board to request the change.

The Whitesburg Parent-Teacher Association was the prime force in having the ban enforced two years ago. The PTA discussed the board's action at its meeting Tuesday night but took no final action of its own.

Alvin Holbrook voted against the removal of the ban. Arnold Wall, Kern Whitaker and Ben Brown voted for removal, and Dr. B. F. Wright said he wouldn't vote but added that he'd "be counted with the ayes anyway."

run, and about doubling the cost of repairs on buses and "I don't know where you're going to get the money."

Dr. Wright said he didn't see how the board could spend much more money on the buses than it already is. He said he had tried "every way" to reduce expenditures with little success.

Alvin Holbrook, a board member, asked why the board had discontinued use of buses in the first place.

"Economy," Wright told him. "Our bus costs are about the highest in the state."

Holbrook said the "important thing is the education of our children." He said the buses are not "mechanically sound" and there is a possibility of wrecks.

He and Ben Brown, another board member, did not vote on the matter. The others voted for permitting use of buses. The ruling will apply all over the county, the board said.

LESABRE, the Buick

you can own for only $200 more than the best models of the leading low-priced cars...

This is in no way a "stripped" car you're looking at. Come in and study the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Buick LeSabre like this, equipped with Twin Turbine automatic transmission, radio, heater, white sidewall tires, and anything else you want in your next car. Then do the same to the top models of the leading low-priced cars, and you'll find the statement above stands up.

What a difference for only $200!

Now think how much more you'd enjoy a Buick. A comfortable, substantially built automobile. A car with the finest ride in all Buick history. A car with Buick's exclusive fin-cooled brakes, and the smoothest type of transmission money can buy. A wonderfully quiet and greatly respected car!

Owners report QUALITY outstanding

Your money in a Buick today puts you in on the ground floor of what promises to be a long new time of leadership for Buick cars. "My sixth Buick and the best I ever owned!" "Best-operating car I've driven in thirty years!" "Much the best Buick yet!" Reports like these mean extra pleasure in your Buick ownership . . . and they mean hard dollar value when the time comes to trade. It all adds up to the best proof in 50 years that: "WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK PEOPLE WILL BUILD THEM!"

New in U.S. economy, too!

In planning the '59 Buick, the new Wildcat engines, transmissions, and axles were all engineered to work together for greater gas mileage. Across the country owners tell us they are getting 15 to 20 miles per gallon in the '59 Buicks. And in a recent thorough test of Buick LeSabre against another car of comparable size and a good reputation for economy . . . the Buick won in every case under all kinds of driving conditions.

So we think we've got a new kind of value in this Buick LeSabre. And we suggest you go to your Quality Buick Dealer's and see whether you agree before you buy a new car.
